The Beatrice Bain Research Group (BBRG) is the University of California, Berkeley’s critical feminist research center.

This map shows the location of origin for the past 15 years of BBRG scholars, with over 100 scholars represented.

Kristin Spilker
Affiliated Scholar, 2011-2012
Norwegian University of Science and Technology
"Reproductive Relations: Production of gendered meaning in the field of reproduction"

Wendy Sarvasy
Scholar-in-Residence, 2010-2012
Independent Scholar
"Engendering Social Democracy: Theorizing Progressive Era Global-Local Activism"

Song Sufeng
Li Ka Shing Scholar, 2010-2011
Sun Yat-sen University
"Translated Queerness and Queer Expressions in Chinese Cinema"

Beatrice Bain Research Group
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY

Part of BBRG’s mission is to provide institutional affiliation for feminist scholars on leave from, or unaffiliated with, other universities, along with hosting visitors from other institutions. Since its inception, BBRG’s scholar programs have drawn researchers from around the world and across the United States. Li Ka Shing Scholars visited from Mainland China and were funded by a generous grant from the foundation.

Scholars in the field of feminist research tender applications for Visiting Scholar status at BBRG. These honorary affiliates are chosen on the strength of their research projects and the ability of the faculty or library resources on the Berkeley campus to meet their research needs. Scholars generally remain at BBRG for six months to one year, and are expected to participate regularly in BBRG’s scholarly life and academic programs while completing their projects.

To learn more about the center, find upcoming lectures, contribute to our program, or apply, please visit us at: bbrg.berkeley.edu